

A Conversation with the Community Black Female Body Images Sponsored by: The African American Studies Program

Tuesday, March 16th, 2010

6:00 – 8:00 pm

UNCG, Elliot University
Center

Kirkland Room

Discussion will be led by

Dr. Tara Green

And

Dr. Sarah Cervenak

There is no doubt that the body images of black women have received attention. Controversy has arisen around the bodies of well known figures such as Michelle Obama and Oprah Winfrey. Michelle Obama has received national attention about her choice of attire and indecent exposure of her...arms? Join us as we discuss some of the negative connotations that are associated with the assumed voluptuous bodies of black women.