

The African American & African Diaspora Studies Program presents:

CACE 2019

Conference on African American & African Diasporic Cultures & Experience

Afrofuturism: Resiliency and Creativity

February 26, 2019 — Literary Café

February 27, 2019 — Research Presentations, Lunch, Workshops, and Reception

Registration &
Events are FREE!!
Seating at some events is limited, so register early

Our conference will feature presentations and workshops from students, alumni, and faculty from various schools and universities centralized around this year's theme. Conference registration is free and open to the public. Faculty are encouraged to bring their classes. All events will be in the Elliott University Center (EUC). Highlights of this year's conference include:

Tuesday, February 26, 2019

Literary Café — 6pm

Featuring a tribute to Lorenzo "Logie" Meachum

Wednesday, February 27, 2019

Welcome & Dialogue on African and African American Relations — 10am - 10:50am

Featuring Remarks from Associate Dean Chuck C. Bolton and AADS Program Director Cerise Glenn Manigault

Continental breakfast will be served*

Research Presentations — 11am - 11:50am

CACE Luncheon 12pm – 12:50pm

Featuring Poster Presentations & Student Group Networking Tables

Research Presentations — 1pm - 1:50pm, 2pm - 3:15pm

Interactive Workshops — 3:30pm - 4:45pm

Black Panther (2018): Screening & Dialogue — 5:00pm

Register for CACE TODAY!

Please register at <https://goo.gl/acrBZ4>

Additional conference information can be found on our website: aads.uncg.edu. If you have any questions, feel free to e-mail us at aads@uncg.edu or call our office at 336-334-5507.